Playgroup

For ages:

to 3 years

Tiny Talkers Play Group is a group-based intervention, where parents can share their experiences as well as give children the opportunity to interact with one another during play. When you come along to Tiny Talkers, your child will be encouraged to participate in a variety of supported activities. These activities cater to a wide variety of ages and stages from birth to school age to encourage their receptive and expressive language.

The groups have been designed for children with an identified expressive and/or receptive language delay (with and without an underlying diagnosis including mild autism spectrum disorder and global developmental delay).

Activities:

- Free play
- Structured group time
- Songs and stories incorporating specialist visual aids and resources
- Music and movement time
